

THE NEWS

As the holidays approach, Goldmark is here to help you plan for seasonal expenses, explore financing for home energy improvements, and protect your money from scams.

Holiday Loan

From gift giving to holiday travel, seasonal expenses can add up. A Goldmark Holiday Loan can help you plan for those costs. Set a budget first and borrow only what fits comfortably within your finances.

Ask us about current rates, terms, and how to apply.

Skip a Pay

Looking for extra breathing room in your holiday budget? Ask whether your loan qualifies for Goldmark's Skip-a-Pay program and learn how skipping a payment would affect your loan.

Contact us for current availability, eligibility, fees, and complete program terms.

Mass Save Heat Loan

Planning home energy improvements before colder weather arrives? Ask about Goldmark's Mass Save loan options for qualifying projects. We can help you understand the financing process and the documentation you will need.

Contact our loan team before starting your project to discuss eligibility and current terms.

Loans are subject to credit approval and applicable membership requirements.
Program eligibility, restrictions, and terms apply.

Protect Yourself from Scams

Cryptocurrency and Investment Scams

Be cautious of promises of high returns, guaranteed profits, or demands for crypto payments.

Example: A person on social media promises to double your money in a week if you send cryptocurrency to their wallet. Later, they demand another payment to release your supposed profits.

Protect yourself: Research the person and company and talk with a trusted financial professional before investing. Once cryptocurrency is sent, it is often impossible to recover.

Fake Credit Union Fraud Alerts

Caller ID can be faked, so a familiar name or number doesn't prove a call is genuine.

Example: A caller says, "This is Goldmark's fraud department. Read me the security code we just sent so I can stop a suspicious transaction."

Protect yourself: Do not share passwords or one-time login codes with someone who contacts you unexpectedly. Hang up and call Goldmark directly at 508-222-3009.

Move Your Money to Protect It Scams

A request to move money to a "safe account," withdraw cash for pickup, or buy cryptocurrency to protect your savings is a scam warning sign.

Example: Someone claiming to be a fraud investigator tells you to withdraw $5,000 and give it to a courier for safekeeping.

Protect yourself: Stop and contact Goldmark using our published number before taking action. Do not move money at an unexpected caller's direction.

Gift Card Scams

Scammers demand gift cards as payment and ask you to share the card numbers and PINs.

Example: A caller says your electricity will be shut off today unless you buy gift cards and read the numbers over the phone.

Protect yourself: Gift cards are for gifts. Do not use them to pay someone who contacts you demanding money. Verify the claim directly with the company.

Fake Delivery Messages and Shopping Deals

Unexpected delivery texts may link to fake sites that steal payment details or money.

Example: A text says, "Your package cannot be delivered. Pay a $1.95 redelivery fee here." The link opens a page asking for your card information.

Protect yourself: Check deliveries through the carrier's official website or app. Research unfamiliar sellers and avoid links in unexpected messages.

If you have already sent money or shared personal or banking information, call Goldmark immediately.

Goldmark Federal Credit Union is committed to protecting our members from fraud. If something doesn't feel right, contact us before sending money or sharing information.
